Open Call for Performing Arts Instructors

Port Moody Arts Centre is currently seeking Performing Arts Instructors who are confident and experienced in teaching drama, dance and/or musical theatre to children and/or adults once a week for up to 8 weeks at a time. Individuals who have original ideas combined with training and experience are encouraged to apply.

Housed in a heritage Building in the Old Town centre of Port Moody we are the small centre with a big heart! We offer a full range of visual, ceramic and music arts programming for all ages and stages. Small class sizes give the students the opportunity to receive individual instruction from our talented instructors. Visit pomoarts.ca for details.

The successful instructor(s) brings a high level of skill with fresh and unique ideas that are not currently being offered at the Centre, and may include technical workshops and classes. Instructors should be open to ideas and provide innovative new projects to keep our program inventory interesting and our returning students engaged.

Instructors are required to complete a Criminal Records Search, renewable every five years.

Pay will be commensurate with education and previous teaching experience.
